C-Will 121's Journey to his 7th album "Music Hero"

C-Will 121 has announced that he will be dropping his 7th album titled "Music Hero" that he anticipates on dropping the first week in December.

This summer, his singles from this album have been getting played worldwide in places like Europe, parts of Asia, South America, and the United States. The singles that he has recently released are "Your Portal," "Change Your Mind," and "Stuck".

"Music Hero" is the 7th music studio album, but I'm really proud of it, because it's particular birth has given me inspiration all over again, and now a little older yet, younger," said C-Will.

C-Will 121says this album has given him a platform to stand on and a foundation that is solid, that he can continue to build on. He credits his grandfather as the inspiration behind this album, and he gives us a piece of that in the intro of the album. He named the album 'Music Hero' because it's based on his life and what he has gone through to sustain a career in music, and how it has paid off to this day.

"To be here alive working through traveling and going through highs and lows of this music business made me even say to myself, "Wow man, you've survived a lot, a lot that people don't know, I'm my favorite music hero, but we all are in our own ways and journey's through this life"," said C-Will.

To give a little history on C-Will 121, his music has charted two times. His first album was a contemporary R&B and Jazz album, in 2003. This album made it to DMX, an online Entertainment Company owned by the players of Universal records and Warner Bros. It charted at number 1 for 2 months, and it featured a well-known gospel singer Melonie Daniels, that previously sung background vocals for Mariah Carey and Michael Jackson.

"That whole album hit the inflight entertainment program in over 77 airlines and T.V. cable stations devoted to music that was new, called "Music Choice" and then there was one of the 1st internet radio stations called Sirius XM, that was hit as well. I watched it climbed up their charts, above a few celebrity music artists, and just under other independent and majors it was number 5 with a bullet going up," said C-Will.

C-Will 121 is from New York but got the opportunity to travel the world when he went on 23 major and independent tours with major music artist. He was also a pioneer in the first tour MTV had called Club MTV, where he played for Color-Me-Badd, All-4-One, Bell Biv Devoe and more.

Even though 'Music Hero' is C-Will's 7th album, his other albums will not be available online anymore.
"My 7th Album Catalogue will be available for album purchase only on my website, there people can read and see more his-story, the story and journey past present and the conceptual future."
"My other albums are not online because I took them off, I understand about the other outlets of music but because it just became a jungle of how easy one's music is everywhere, I quickly decided last year to let this album continue to build my company called "MAEWI". (Pronounced "May-We")," said C-Will.
